I'm Hurting, Can Anybody Hear Me? Vickie Gunnels-Hodge, 2007-08 ? I'm Hurting, Can Anybody Hear Me? For Parent's of Divorce or Separation, by Vickie Gunnells-Hodge, is a one-month journal with Scripture references to guide each parent through a thorough analysis of his or her relationship from beginning to end, addressing such things as the doubt and confusion for parent and child alike, and ending with each parent answering some of their own 'whys' and 'why nots,' while providing gentle instruction of how to protect and comfort their child

Life and Loss Linda Goldman, 2013-11-20 Many clinicians recognize that denying or ignoring grief issues in children leaves them feeling alone and that acknowledging loss is crucial part of a child's healthy development. Really dealing with loss in productive ways, however, is sometimes easier said than done. For decades, Life and Loss has been the book clinicians have relied on for a full and nuanced presentation of the many issues with which grieving children grapple as well as an honest exploration of the interrelationship between unresolved grief, educational success, and responsible citizenry. The third edition of Life and Loss brings this exploration firmly into the twenty-first century and makes a convincing case that children's grief is no longer restricted only to loss-identified children. Children's grief is now endemic; it is global. Life and Loss is not just the book clinicians need to understand grief in the twenty-first century—it's the book they need to work with it in constructive ways.

Letters Peter Donovan, 2023-11-21 Peter Donovan was fully involved in his youngest daughter's life up to the age of nearly twelve. The girl's mother was his second wife, who had two children of her own when they married and joined households, by which time, his own four children had left home. The new household lived in harmony for a few years, until the marriage began to show signs of stress. Donovan's wife arranged a court order against him to have him removed from their house, based on her allegations of his abuse of her and his youngest daughter. The court finally concluded there was no evidence of abuse, but the damage was already done. His relationship with his youngest daughter ended and she became fully alienated from him. Initially, Donovan posted letters to her, but as direct contact was removed, he began to upload letters to a web site he started. In Letters, he shares this collection. Each letter represents a snapshot of his thoughts and feelings for his daughter written in a sequence, at random times over a period of fourteen years. He includes sections of his journal from the initial date of separation until the end of court hearings and narrative to create context.
